SHRI P. UPENDRA:
DR. SANJAYA SINH:
Will the Minister of RAILWAYS be pleased to state:

(a) whether passenger insurance is being introduced by the Indian Railways from the next financial year;

(b) if so, the salient features of this policy and when it is likely to be introduced; and

(b) Presently under the provisions of Section 124 of the Railways Act, 1989, only the victims of passenger train accidents are entitled for compensation. The Railways, however, propose to provide an insurance scheme to cover incidents of deaths/injuries to bonafide passengers on account of terrorist attacks, dacoities, bomb blasts etc., including the railway staff travelling on duty or on railway passes.

The scheme is likely to be implemented by October, 1993.

(c) The annual premium to cover claim on above account is estimated to be approximately Rs. 8 crores. This amount will be provided in the year 1993-94 at the Revised Estimates stage. As the scheme itself has been proposed to be implemented from 1993-94, no provision for the same has been made in so far as the current year is concerned.
